

Potatoes

Michigan is home to more than 70 potato farms, most of which are multi-generational family farms.

Potatoes, especially with their skins on, are a good source of potassium and vitamin C.

Michigan potatoes store well and are available for most of the year.